Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Follies of the Positive Philosophers: Address to the University Normal School of North Carolina, Delivered at Chapel Hill, June 26, 1878 It is not my purpose to-day to discuss elaborately a particular subject, much less to attempt to make a rhetorical display. The line of thought intended to be offered can be better presented in a lively conversational style, than by earnest declamation. Intellectual instruction can be more successfully conveyed in such a mode than by that species of turgid declamation which, like the mock thunder of the stage, attempts to impose itself on the ignorant for eloquence. Even real eloquence which arouses the passions of men and drives them forward under the enthusiasm of the moment, often fails to leave distinct and permanent intellectual images on the mind. Jefferson said that after Patrick Henry had concluded a speech, one could scarcely remember what he had said. I have myself listened to speeches, which wrought most strongly on my feelings, as well as those of the audience present, and yet in several instances, after they...
