Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Charge, Delivered on the Sixth of January, 1862, at the Quarter Sessions, Held for the Borough of Birmingham: With an Appendix The treatment of offenders is, even at the present day, in a condition far from satisfactory to those whose duties bring them acquainted with the actual working of our system in its various branches of the prevention of crime, and the detection, apprehension, trial, and subsequent disposal of criminals 3 however much each of these branches has been improved. But while we must not slacken our exertions, we must, nevertheless, guard our minds from discouragement wherever it can be shown that what might be hastily assumed to disclose failures in our theory or practice really springs from causes beyond the reach of any conceivable system for dealing with crime. The inhabitants of Birmingham have during the last week been shocked with three executions in their immediate neighbourhood - two at Warwick and one at Sta?ord. Nor does the recorded in?ic tion of capital punishment here end. In the two last months of November and December, during which the Winter Assizes have been held, together with the usual sessions at the Old Bailey, the number of convictions for murder has amounted to twenty at the least; passing by culprits who, by verdictsof manslaughter, have escaped the penalty of death in cases which my feeble perspicacity fails to distinguish from foul and detestable murders. This period, as there are three assizes in ea ch twelve months, may be considered to furnish us with the criminal statistics of one-third of the year; and would therefore, if the growth of the crime he the same in all seasons, yield an annual total of sixty proved...
