Excerpt from Souvenir Programme, the Royal Visit, Hamilton, Monday, Oct. 14, 1901 Cambridge, the seventh son, of George III. Whose father was Frederick Prince of Wales, the eldest son of George II. And Caroline of Anspach. She was educated under the personal direction of the Duke and Duchess of Teck, who took her to Florence when she was between sixteen and seventeen years of age, where she gained a practical knowledge of the fine arts. About this time her parents were offered White Lodge as a residence, and it was in this most beautiful of suburban Royal dwellings that the Princess grew up to womanhood, becoming in due course her mother's dearest companion and the kindest of friends and playmates to her three brothers, one of whom, the youngest, Prince Alexander, is a prominent member of the Duke of Cornwall and York's travelling suite. The duchess is distinctly clever. She has had a very thorough musical education. Her voice having been trained by Signor Foli. She plays the piano forte and harp like a professor, and speaks German and French fluently....
