Excerpt from Peter Parley s Gift The little boy, of whom I am going to tell you, was born on board a ship called the doi phin; his father and mother, who were poor people from Ireland, were going to Jamaica, a large island in the West Indies. The ship had a long passage, and, after the little boy was born, his mother died. His father took care Of him for a time, but in a few days he died also. Now there was on board the ship a rough Old sailor, who was called Bill. But, rough as he was, he had a kind heart. SO he took the poor babe, and made a little swing, called a hammock, for him by his own bed. He then fed him with soft bread, and hushed him to sleep, as kindly as if he had been his mother.
