Report on a Visit to America: September 19th to October 31st, 1902 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By H a Yorke

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Report on a Visit to America: September 19th to October 31st, 1902 In England the problem is further complicated by the existence of numerous industrial sidings on the main lines, the points and signals of which must necessarily be interlocked with the automatic signals, and require human agency to operate them. There is something attractive about the term automatic signalling, and the conclusion is sometimes hastily arrived at, that its adoption will immediately effect increased safety, greater economy and simplicity of operation, a reduction of expenses, and larger dividends. But the cost of installing a system of automatic signalling is great, involving as it does the erection of a power plant, electric or pneumatic, to supply the power for operating the signals, the laying of pipes, conduits, or cables for the entire length of the line for conveying the power to the signals, the provision of numerous wires, batteries, and relays for controlling the power, and the erection of a great number of signals, and the bridges or posts supporting them. Moreover, if the system is to take the place of an...
