By Gary A Hickling

Tate Publishing Enterprises, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 208 x 132 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . I m beginning to think seniors are tough old birds, with their wits intact and a head on their shoulders that still works with amazing results. So says Ben Boyd, 66, who has recently moved into an apartment block exclusive to seniors. A widower, Ben still feels resentment and anger at the loss of his wife and emotionally adrift in a world which seems to always outrun him. Ben meets fellow residents Martha, Lin, and Jack and friendship, trust, and admiration grow between the four elders. Each has their various talents, skills, and experiences which makes them unique in their own way. But there are troubles in the neighborhood. Reports of theft spread across the block and rumors of a smiling stranger begin to surface. Could these things happen in such a great community? Does every Eden have its serpent? Ben must come to grips with the hand he s been dealt, but also hold onto the life he has left. Fortunately, he has the assistance of his new-found friends who are intelligent, caring individuals,...
