The National Capital was in peril, and with it the very existence of our Government in its National Republican form. From every city and village, young men swarmed to offer up their lives in its defence, and to Pennsylvania belongs the memorable honor of leading the van of the army, numbering hundreds of thousands of freemen, poured forth from all her loyal sister States for the protection of Washington and the Constitution. On the 15th of April the President of the United States made upon the Governor of Pennsylvania a requisition for sixteen regiments of volunteers to serve for three months. By the twenty-third of April, ten thousand volunteers were at Harrisburg, reported for duty. The uniforms of the soldiers, to about ten thousand in number, were manufactured at the Girard House, in Philadelphia, by the Governor's agent, Mr. K. L. Martin, under the advice and direction of Capt. Gibson, of the U. S. A. Scarcely, however, had a month passed before the cry went abroad that our brave volunteers, trusting in the guardian care of this Commonwealth, had been supplied...
