Such letters to cardinals or others as may be necessary, and we cannot here think of now, cause prepare there, and sign for us, so as they may be thought from us. 1, . You shall make our compliments to such cardinals as you shall find to stand well-assected to us, especially to the cardinal of Norfolk. You are to communicate, in all things, with the cardinal D Este, our cousin, whose directions you are to follow, in what relates to our service. Vol, I. Y y You 1689. Oaober. You are to correspond with the ministers employed there by our dearest brother, the most Christian King, and go alongst with them in all things j our interest and that of our dearest brother being all the fame. You shall do all things which you judge can best conduce to the weal of our service, and obey what orders you shall receive from our dearest consort the Queen, as if they were immediately given by us. You shall remain at Rome, or where his Holiness shall be, till recalled by us or our dearest consort the Queen. You shall diligently observe what you may think worth informing us or our dearest consort the Queen of; and inform us punctually...
