W. Longfellow His great work, The Soul of Nature, in which he promulgates his grand doctrine of the universe, abundantly repays a careful perusal. Carl Von Linne (Linnaeus) is the polar star in Botany. He was Professor at the University of Sweden, died in 1788, and is the founder of the established system of botany. As Linnaeus is the father of botany, so Berzelius might be called the father of the present system of chemistry. He is one of the greatest ornaments of science. He devoted his whole life sedulously to the promotion and extension of his favorite science, and to him is the world indebted for the discovery of many new elementary principles and valuable chemical combinations now in general use. He filled the chair of Chemistry in the University of Stockholm for forty-two years, and died in 1848. Scheele, Michael Sars, Hansteen, and several others, are...
