Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from East Technical High School; Cleveland, Ohio, 1916: Catalogue During the first semester the time is devoted chiefly to the physical side of geography. A brief review of elementary geography is made, followed by a somewhat detailed study of those factors of meteorology, which have a direct bearing on the industrial, social and economic life of a people. The weather and climatic conditions of the various countries, together with the causes which govern these conditions, are considered. Daily local weather reports of the temperature, direction and velocity of the wind, precipitation, and cloudiness, are made by each student. From these reports a study of storm movements and weather changes is made. Rainfall maps are constructed and causes of difference in amount of precipitation are discussed. The processes of weathering, erosion and glaciation, and the resultant land forms are studied in some detail. A laboratory and field acquaintance with the common rocks, together with some knowledge of their structure and formation, is acquired.
