Dix, of New York, on the Three Million Bill: Delivered in the Senate of the United States, March 1, 1847 The Bill appropriating Three Million of Dollars to enable the President to enter into negotiations for the restoration of peace with Mexico being under consideration - Mr. Dix said: Mr. President: I intended to address the Senate on the general subject of the war; but being always more ready to listen than to speak, I have given way to others, who were desirous of presenting their views to the Senate. And I have done so with pleasure, because I knew that they were much more capable than myself of enlightening the judgment of the Senate on the questions before it. I have thought the occasion as appropriate one for recurring to the principles on which our Government was founded; of reviewing its progress; of entering into a critical survey of our position as a nation, for the purpose of estimating intelligently our responsibilities to ourselves and others; of seeing wherein our strength consists; and of determining by what course of policy the permanent interests of the country are most likely to be promoted. If I do not mistake prevailing indications, an opportunity may be afforded hereafter for such a review, and one fully as appropriate as the present. I pass by all these grave considerations. I rise for the purpose of saying a few words in respect to the position taken by the non-slaveholding States concerning the acquisition of territory, and the admission of future States into the Union - a position taken by resolutions passed by the legislatures of...
