Lynn Effinger, United States, 2011. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This is an inspiring and uplifting personal memoir about overcoming adversity, creating high expectations and aspirations, and the discovery of purpose in life. Although born without a left hand, Lynn Effinger never let that fact keep him from doing whatever it was that he really wanted to do. He learned at an early age that he had an important choice to make; he could either sit in the corner of his room and feel sorry for himself or he could simply go out and do those things he wanted to -- never letting others define who he was or what he could accomplish. He chose wisely. By playing Little League Baseball and other sports as a youngster, and performing well, the author also learned he could be more readily accepted by his classmates and earn self-respect and self-esteem through the positive recognition he received from family, friends, and teachers. Lynn shares with the reader many of his experiences and inner-most thoughts growing up that shaped his character, determination and drive to succeed. He also describes his decision upon entering high school to play varsity football by the time he became a senior and the trials and tribulations experienced in the process of achieving that lofty goal despite the many challenges he faced. And there is the exciting play-by-play account of the Championship Game during his senior season that had such an impact on his life. As a result of his efforts, following his senior year Lynn was given a Responsibility by one of his football coaches to help others learn to overcome adversity to be the best that they can be. The story builds as Lynn discovers how he will fulfill that...
