Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.3in.After Bezalel, Mary is the most important person in the Bible when it comes to the arts. She is the only person in all of creation who actually made the word flesh. In fact, it was her flesh that took on the Word. And because of this the barriers between flesh and spirit, time and eternity, God and humanity all blurred. In the first book of this series I looked at Bezalel and his mission to build a portable throne for God in the earth. This throne, the ark of the covenant, forms a gold thread through the Bible. Instead of following the Ark chronologically, we are going to jump into the New Testament and see how the Ark becomes linked with Mary, the mother of Jesus. I believe that artists and culture shapers in our world need to have a healthy understanding of what the Bible says about Mary. A study of Mary should help us get greater understand of Jesus and a greater understanding of our identity in Christ. In a unique way, Mary straddles both realities. Mary did touch heaven and earth. Every creative person makes the unseen tangible. Mary, more than any other person in human history demonstrated this reality. To ignore this ripple in the space-time continuum is to miss all that God has to say about our physical reality, all the Bible has to say about women, motherhood and family, and the astounding way God is redeeming a renegade creation. This book might re-arrange your reality. Hopefully if you are an artist you will then begin rearranging reality for others. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
